Ethan,

How are you doing? Rachel got your letter yesterday, she said you are not so happy about joining the army and your still worried about your physical test. First I think joining the army was the smartest thing you could have done. Even if you only stay for 4 years + leave, the future benifits you will have is great. As a vet your have free medical for life, you can buy a home with no money down, Phone companies give you a discount for having been in the military, you get a discount on medical insurance & many more benifits.

As for you worring your self silly over your PE test, just remember God has a plan for you, so trust him he knows what is best for you. As for worring about ~~dying~~ dieing in combat, the day you die was chosen before you were born.

Enjoy life Ethan, life is too short as it is, and we sure miss you. Mom said you have been away from us as of today for 30 days.

Tomarrow we leave for Statesboro Georga, then we will give you ~~are~~ our mailing address.

Be good & Remember we love you very much.

Dad
